It is the new "entry level" of the FX series, particularly agile and responsive. The FX190 is designed for those who love adventures at sea, with a solid and robust boat, without sacrificing comfort and habitability on board.

It has a large sofa at the bow, a bench at the stern that can be converted into a sundeck and a retractable bimini. The hull has been designed with a sleek and elegant shape, offering surprising seaworthiness and speed even in rough seas.

Like all Capoforte, it benefits from all the main qualities that have made the Italian shipyard a new reference in the yachting industry. From its original and innovative design, to the attention to detail, to the finishes, everything is done without any compromise on quality.

The FX190 is the gateway to be part of the Capoforte world, designed and built with the same criteria and components shared by all the other models, including the flagships of the range.

The owner of each Invictus boat also acquires a new concept of boat, belonging to a new world of luxury, regardless of size or model.
