COMMENTS

For those who wish to approach a new way of enjoying pleasant days at sea, the new CX240 is ideal and surprising. Like its big sister, the CX280, this beautifully finished boat is designed to pack a wealth of amenities and a high level of comfort into a small space.

The central cockpit is dominated by the pilot's seat, which offers a folding backrest that can be used as an aft-facing bench or, why not, as an additional table to be used in conjunction with the L-shaped settee.

Again, the deck area takes advantage of the generous hull volumes, allowing for a cozy cockpit.

The choice of colors, together with the leather and chromed steel finishes in the bow sundeck area, set the scene for a successful expression of
