The first boat in the FX series is designed for sporty sailors. It is equipped with outboard engines and its hull has been designed to offer great performance in complete safety, even in rough seas.

It is a boat that combines action and luxury, thanks to refined selections of colors, materials and shapes that create a real entertainment area at sea.

For these reasons, the FX 270 offers a "leisure" or "fishing" version, thanks to its wide and versatile deck. The bow has a surprisingly large storage space, specifically equipped to accommodate fenders, sport equipment and safety gear.

The open space in the bow, ideal for fishing, can be equipped with an additional sofa to create a dinette type area.

The elevated and well protected helm station is integrated with the console and the main structure of the windshield. Below deck there is a dressing room with WC, completing the equipment of this boat, designed for those who are looking for a sporty and elegant adventure companion.
